To Whom It May Concern,

I first met Craig Williamson when we were brought together to work on a mixed use project with residential, commercial, a hotel, and casino in Guanacaste Province in Costa Rica. It was evident from our initial meetings that Craig had the varied expertise necessary to bring the project in successfully.

Craig brings with him, to each project that he undertakes, a very strong work ethic, honesty, and professionalism. His enthusiasm and commanding knowledge of real estate make Craig a most desirable member of any projects' team.

I would not hesitate to recommend Craig Williamson to anyone with a project they want to see come to a successful reality. His forward vision when planning a real estate project is an asset that can not be overvalued.

Sincerely,

Robert J. Alico
President
