To whom it may concern,

I confirm that I have known Mr. Craig Williamson for almost two years. In this time we have been supporting all the information technology needs for his businesses and projects.

At all times I have found him to be a reliable, honest, hard-working, forward thinking, and organized person, who lead his team to exceed expectations.

I am sure that any person who appoint him for a development project or investment is taking the right decision, and will greatly benefit from the relation. Please feel free to contact me with any question.

Regards,

Llamil Silman Winstanley
